

EUChemS Award for Service 2018 ai Soci Francesco De Angelis e Sergio Facchetti

I Soci prof. Francesco De Angelis, già Presidente SCI, e il prof. Sergio Facchetti hanno ricevuto il prestigioso riconoscimento EuChemS Award for Service 2018!

Le motivazioni ufficiali sono riportate qui di seguito nei messaggi della Presidente EuChemS Pilar Goya, ai nostri Soci vadano i complimenti ed i ringraziamenti per la loro preziosa attività da parte di tutta la SCI.

Dear Professor De Angelis, dear Franco,

It is our great pleasure to inform you that after unanimous endorsement from the EuChemS Executive Board, you have been awarded the EuChemS Award for Service 2018 in recognition of your outstanding commitment in fostering chemistry in Europe, along with the activities and goals of EuChemS.

Throughout your exceptional years of work for EuChemS, both as Treasurer, Member of the Executive Board and through other roles, you have successfully managed to broaden and increase the impact of our activities and to enhance the profile of Chemistry in Europe and EuChemS.

Your impressive contribution and work for national and international bodies, from your role as President of the Italian Chemical Society, President of the ECTN, and playing a major part in the 41st IUPAC congress and other high-profile events, has significantly shaped the image of Chemistry and promoted the visibility of EuChemS more widely.

We would like to thank you again for your hard work, enthusiasm, commitment and passion. We look very much forward to awarding you the Award for Service at the EuChemS Chemistry Congress in Liverpool, UK, this August.

For your information, this year the EuChemS Executive Board decided to also award the EuChemS Award for Service to Reiner Salzer and Sergio Facchetti.

With gratitude, yours truly,

Pilar Goya

EuChemS President

Dear Professor Facchetti, dear Sergio,

It is our great pleasure to inform you that after unanimous endorsement from the EuChemS Executive Board, you have been awarded the EuChemS Award for Service 2018 in recognition of your outstanding commitment in fostering chemistry in Europe, along with the activities and goals of EuChemS.

Through your exceptional 47 years of continuous work for EuChemS and its predecessor FECS, you have successfully managed to broaden and increase the impact of our activities and to enhance the profile of Chemistry in Europe and EuChemS, as well as the CNC.

From founding the Division of Chemistry and the Environment, to your major lectures and debates during the EXPO Milan, you have significantly shaped the image of Chemistry in Europe and promoted the visibility of EuChemS more widely, including its policy aspect.

Throughout your successful career, and your major achievements and contributions to chemistry, science more generally, and society, you have also managed to encourage chemists from across Europe to work and think together.

We would like to thank you again for your hard work, enthusiasm, commitment and passion. We look very much forward to awarding you the Award for Service at the EuChemS Chemistry Congress in Liverpool, UK, this August.

For your information, this year the EuChemS Executive Board decided to also award the EuChemS Award for Service to Franco de Angelis and Reiner Salzer.

With gratitude, yours truly,

Pilar Goya

EuChemS President

Source URL: <https://www.soc.chim.it/en/node/1938>
