Preamble

In view of the increasing participation of the electrochemical community in Italy, which is represented by the Electrochemistry Division of the Italian Chemical Society, in the activities of the International Society of Electrochemistry (ISE), and of the good and close contacts between both Societies in the last years it is intended to intensify the co-operation in the future. This refers especially to an exchange of information, and occasionally to the organisation of common meetings.

3. Advertisements at meetings

Advertisements at meetings of the co-operating society, e.g. in the form of a poster are welcome.

4. Co-operation on Internet

On the internet links between the websites of the societies will be installed.
